Reviews

"I cannot think of a more significant thing to transform an increasingly wayward culture than making the singing of God's psalms more accessible and desirable to the general public. Jason is not only effectively spreading the gospel but is also exceeding the quality levels of any modern secular music available.

Les K Smith,

"For a considerable number of years I have known Jason Coghill and want to commend him to our churches. He is a gifted musician who has great ability in putting the Psalms to music. In addition he uses his gifts to complement his spirituality and so can speak and sing from the art of God's grace. This combination is very important, and through it he can reach young and old in ministry for the Gospel."

Rev. Allan Harman,
Presbyterian Church of Australia, Melbourne, Australia

"Church music can be a difficult subject today. Not so with the ministry of Christian singer and songwriter Jason Coghill. Here the Christian is on solid ground. Jason is a very gifted musician who specializes in composing and arranging new and contemporary settings of the greatest of songs - the inspired psalms of David. His CD, Songs of Deliverance is the best Christian CD I have heard for many years. From every point of view it is an outstanding example of reverent, contemporary Christian music."

Rev. Stuart Bonnington,

Ministry details

This is a ministry of the Word of God, sung and preached from the book of Psalms. Jason sings the Word of God as it is – straight from the Bible as it appears in common English translations. The acoustic guitar based compositions are simple and memorable making them most effective for learning the Word of God and remembering it. The congregation is encouraged to follow along in their Bibles as each psalm is sung.
